

We appreciate the love and concern expressed by family, friends, acquaintances, and the community at BYU and in Colorado Springs for the loss of our daughter Ashleigh Cox. Ashleigh planned to graduate from BYU this spring and wanted to further her education in social work. She loved to work with those struggling with life's challenges and dedicated her short life to serving others.

It has been difficult for us to handle the sudden loss of our daughter. Our faith in God has and will continue to help us through this difficult time. She will be missed.

A funeral will be held in Colorado Springs on February 15th. There will also be a memorial service the following Tuesday in Provo. Check local listings for times and locations.

A Pledge account has been set up in Ashleigh's name to help offset expenses incurred by the family. The link is <https://pledgie.com/campaigns/24098>.

The family requests privacy from the media but knows there is a high degree of interest in the story, so has asked Bob Rasmussen, Ashleigh's LDS Bishop at BYU to be the spokesperson for the family. He can be reached at 801-750-6518 for additional information.
